DETAILED ACTION

This Final Office Action is mailed in response to amendment filed 1/11/2006, wherein claims 1, 4-6, 8-11, and 13-15 were amended and claims 2-3, 7, and 12 were presented as original.

Claim Objections

Claim 6 is objected to because of the following informalities: in line 3 --the-- should be inserted before "panel". Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-8, 10-12, and 14-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Royal (US 6,076,906). Royal discloses an enclosure (12) having a top (14), bottom (16), and sidewalls (18,20). The enclosure has a panel (52) slidably positioned within the enclosure by means of slides (42,44) and coupled to the first surface (i.e. inner surface of panel 52) of the panel is a gun rack comprising sides 48,54, and 56. Applicant's broad recitation "a gun rack" is considered to be met by the Royal '906 reference, which shows a rack, since the reference is considered to be capable of functioning as a gun rack to the same degree and in the same manner as the claimed recitation noted.

With respect to claim 2, Royal discloses the gun rack (48,54,56) comprising an upper barrel receiving portion (including all shelves 56) and a lower lip (50). The configuration of the gun or barrel has not been claimed therefore, the broad recitation "barrel receiving portion" is considered to be met by Royal.

With respect to claim 3, the barrel receiving portion comprises a recess located between two adjacent shelves.

With respect to claim 4, Royal discloses a storage compartment coupled to the panel, seen as a recess between shelves that is not the barrel receiving portion. For the purpose of distinction the top three recesses will be called storage compartments, and the bottom three recesses will be called recesses for receiving gun barrels.

With respect to claim 5, as shown in figure 9, the slide (44) of Royal comprises two elements both labeled as "44": a rail (44) coupled to the second surface (i.e. outer surface) of the panel (52) and a track (44) coupled to the sidewall (18) by means of a protrusion (28).

With respect to claim 6, Royal discloses the panel (52) is pivotally coupled to the rail (44) relative to the enclosure by means of a hinge (36) on the protrusion.

With respect to claim 7, Royal discloses the track (44) is coupled to a protrusion (28).

With respect to claim 8, as shown in figure 3, the surface of the panel (52) is positioned at a distance from the sidewall (18) of the enclosure.

Art Unit: 3634

With respect to claim 10, Royal discloses an enclosure (12), a panel (52), a gun rack (48, 54, and 56), barrel receiving portions (between adjacent shelves 56), and a rail (44) coupled to the panel cooperating with a track (44) coupled to the sidewall (18) by means of a pivotal protrusion (28).

With respect to claim 11, Royal discloses a storage compartment (recesses) coupled to the panel.

With respect to claim 12, as discussed above the barrel receiving portion comprises the bottom three recess between the shelves (56).

With respect to claim 14, Royal discloses an enclosure (12) having a panel (52), gun rack (48, 54, and 56), and means for sliding (44) the panel into and out of the interior compartment.

With respect to claim 15, Royal discloses a means for pivoting the panel (36).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 9 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Royal as applied to claims 1-8, 10-12, and 14-15 above, and further in view of Vertullo (US 6,220,682). Royal discloses an enclosure having a panel slidably and pivotally mounted within, where the panel has means for receiving gun barrels. Royal discloses the sidewall (18) to have mounting bracket (26) attached thereto but does not disclose a plurality of barrel receiving pieces coupled thereon. Vertullo disclose a storage enclosure (10) having a panel (82) slidably mounted within (Col. 3 lines 57-63) and means for receiving gun barrels on the panel (shelves 112). Vertullo also discloses a mounting bracket (42) mounted to the sidewall (26), and barrel receiving portions (44) coupled to the mounting bracket. Accordingly, it would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to include the plurality of barrel receiving portions disclosed by Vertullo on the mounting bracket disclosed by Royal, so as to increase the storage capacity of the enclosure.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-15 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. The new grounds of rejection were necessitated by the amendment changing "cabinet" to "panel" in the claims. The term panel would inherently include a panel in scope, whereas panel broadens the scope of the claims.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
